Greyfox Utility Services Announces Partnership with Comcast in Western Pennsylvania

Bridgetown, PA– December 2, 2003 – Greyfox Utility Services, LLC, dba HomeConnect, an organization that simplifies the process of moving for new homeowners, has announced that it has reached agreements with Comcast in the company's Western Pennsylvania cable systems to offer services. HomeConnect, eases the burden of moving by coordinating the installation of all utility, telephone and video services for homebuyers.

HomeConnect will offer a suite of services to their customers that include Comcast Digital Cable, High-Speed Internet and Digital Telephone services.

“Comcast sees the inherent value in a service like HomeConnect” states Rick Metzinger General Manager of HomeConnect. “It is a natural extension of their existing sales and marketing channels”

HomeConnect eliminates one of the largest irritations of new homeowners: the connection of telephone, Internet, video and utility services. The service, HomeConnect, is marketed through builders and Realtors nationwide. The service eliminates the frustration of moving and provides a single source of information for the installation through the call center or the HomeConnect web site -www.homeconnect.info.

“We’re excited about the opportunity to bring the latest and best in cable technology such as Comcast Digital Cable, High-Speed Internet and Digital Telephone services to new homeowners” said Joseph A. Gamble, Vice President and General Manager of Comcast’s Pittsburgh System.

HomeConnect launched service October 1, 2003 in Columbus, Ohio and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The company has expanded offerings in Virginia, Texas, Florida and Maryland. Several nationally recognized builders are currently using the service.

About HomeConnect

Founded in 2003, HomeConnect is headquartered in Bridgeville, PA and has additional offices in Columbus, Virginia Beach and Winchester, VA. The company eliminates the frustration of moving and provides a single source of information for the installation of all utilities. The company was founded on the belief that new homebuyers face a myriad of choices with little or no guidance in choosing service providers. HomeConnect will provide consumers with a tool for intelligently selecting service providers including electric and gas (where deregulated), video/entertainment, local/ long distance telephone services and Internet services. Customers have the choice of visiting the HomeConnect website or calling the HomeConnect call center to choose their utilities.

HomeConnect is a subsidiary of Greyfox Services, one of the nations largest installers of structured wiring to homebuilders.
