Greyfox Services Announces Formation of New Entity

HomeConnect Promises to Ease Burden of Moving for New Homeowners

Bridgeville, PA– September 30, 2003– Greyfox Services Inc., a nationally recognized home services company has announced the formation of a new corporation: GreyFox Utility Services, LLC dba as HomeConnect. HomeConnect coordinates the installation of all utilities- gas, electric, entertainment, security, telephone and Internet services, for new homeowners.

“This new venture has tremendous potential and has been enthusiastically received by service providers and builders/realtors.” states John Piazza, President of Greyfox Services and HomeConnect.

HomeConnect will eliminate one of the largest irritations of new homeowners: the connection of telephone, Internet, video and utility services. “New homeowners were always expected to do a tremendous amount of work to ensure that all of their utilities were connected. We alleviate the homeowner of that enormous burden and work with all of their providers to arrange for a carefree move.” Piazza continued.

HomeConnect will provide homeowners with a website, www.homeconnect.info, where free of charge, they may choose among several providers in each category-Natural Gas, Electricity, Video/Entertainment, Local Telephone, Security, Long Distance and Internet services. The homeowner browses through the options, chooses their providers and HomeConnect contacts the providers and coordinates the installation.

The service, HomeConnect, is marketed through builders and Realtors nationwide. “We have signed exclusive marketing arrangements with a number of large builders and we have secured several service providers prior to a full launch in October to the homebuilders/realtors.” states Piazza. “Our value proposition is to eliminate the frustration of moving and to provide a single source of information for the installation of all utilities including gas, electric, telephone, video, security services and Internet. We provide service providers with an opportunity to market to new homeowners at least 60 days earlier than previously possible and builders/realtors view the service as a tremendous differentiation tool.”

HomeConnect will launch October 1st in Ohio and Pennsylvania and plans to rapidly expand to Florida, Virginia, DC, MD and Texas.
